CURLING MATCH LOST THE RACE TO BURGESS

Third Runner Tells Why He Isn't Mayor To-day—Lost the Match, Too.

Ex-Alderman Burgess blames a curling match for his failure to land the mayoralty yesterday, and the irony of it is that he lost the curling match, too. In spite of this fact, however, Mr. Burgess was in a joyful mood to-day, and expressed himself as being satisfied with the result. He has also changed his mind about protesting the election, and the quo warranto proceedings on the ground that Mr. McIlrien retired on nomination day will not be gone on with.

"I spent two hours at the Granite Club curling yesterday," said Mr. Burgess to The Star. "If I had been working to get the vote out instead of curling I would have been elected. However, I have no complaint about the result. The vote was a strong declaration against the street railway purchase. I also feel that Mayor Hocken got many votes from the sympathy created for him by my exposure of the Telegram. I am glad to see Mr. Hocken Mayor again, and if he drops the street railway deal I will be glad to support him all I can."

With reference to the threatened proceedings, Mr. Burgess stated that, so far as he is concerned, the battle is over, and he is quite content that the spoils should go to the winner.

WOMEN TO SEE MAYOR ON ELECTION FRACAS

Mrs. H. Prenter Saw Men Canvassing When She Was Ejected.

A GLORIOUS VICTORY

Local Organizations of Women Will Now Visit Provincial Legislature.

"We will have to have the matter settled legally," said Mrs. Hector Prenter to The Star this morning, in reference to the efforts of the police to intimidate women canvassers at some of the polls yesterday. "If it is illegal, of course we do not want to do it, but it must also be illegal for the men. There were men ward-heelers round us all the time asking for support for their candidates, and we were merely asking for support of a question. It was absurd the way some of those men would come out and try to frighten the women by telling them how large a fine they would have to pay if they didn't go away. It must apparently be blamed on the returning officer. The most bitter complaints were received from the Fern avenue, the Parkdale, and the Howard Park schools. And we need women scrutineers also, as in many instances the referendum ballot was not given out with the other papers. They moved me from the school to the grounds, then to the sidewalk, and then they came out and took my name and that of Mrs. Joseph Norwich, who was assisting me. We are going to consult Mayor Hocken as to the course of action, and have the matter straightened out."

Mrs. Prenter represents the Toronto Suffrage Association, but it is understood that all the local organizations will join in the enquiry.

Now For the Legislature.

"I consider this a most important victory," said Mrs. Flora MacD. Denison this morning, referring to the 12,575 in favor of the referendum to give the votes to married women. "The Ontario campaign will now take the form of a national organization, and we will go with the Mayor and controllers and City Council to the Provincial Legislature with the request that the municipal franchise be given to married women. Of course, that is just the beginning of the campaign for the full Parliamentary franchise. It is a most important step, as Toronto has been considered the representative city of the Dominion, and it will be of international value."

Mrs. Denison also expressed satisfaction at the return of Mayor Hocken and the election of Mr. James Simpson to the Board of Control. "It is nice to know we have a friend in power who is a real fighter," she said. "It is no new thing for Mr. Simpson to favor our cause. He has believed in votes for women ever since he was a boy, and universal suffrage is part of the Socialist platform. There will probably be a mass meeting of the local organizations to celebrate this victory, but of course nothing has been arranged as yet."

This Arose From Misunderstanding.

Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, of the Equal Franchise League, delivered several volumes of complete satisfaction in her comment, "Perfectly splendid." As to the rumors of trouble at the polls yesterday, Mrs. Hamilton's opinion was that it arose from a misunderstanding.

"I am sure the police were only doing their duty in most instances," she said, "but they were not clear as to their duty. They had written instructions as to literature, but not as to where the women should stand. If it is against the law for women to stand inside the building, we have no desire whatever to do so, and do not ask for any special privilege. One enthusiastic girl who was to be relieved, but whose helpers did not eventuate, stood in the grounds of the Church Street School from nine until four, just going in once in a while to thaw out. It had a wonderful effect on the men. It was most instructive to stand outside and talk to the men. They did not argue, but just discussed the matter with us."

NEW RY. LINE IN NORTH BAY

Construction Trains and Lumber Trains Using It Now.

North Bay, Ont., Jan. 2.—C.N.R. steel has now been connected up between Caprcol and North Bay, and construction trains are employed in ballasting operations over this section. District Engineer George P. McLaren and Contractor Angus Sinclair went over the line on a tour of inspection and found the work well advanced. A splendid permanent bridge has been erected over the Sturgeon River, a difficult piece of engineering work, abutments having to be laid for the centre span in twenty-five feet of water. East of North Bay the rails are laid nearly to Pembroke, and it will not be long before service will be available east and west of North Bay. Already the contractor is taking in supplies west of North Bay for some of the large lumber firms, which means a great convenience and saving to them. Construction trains are being operated through North Bay at the present time.
